

CARE WHILE YOU WORK

Juggling Family and Career

With the increasing demands placed on today's business community, the responsibility of having to care for an ageing parent or loved one in need, is often overwhelming. When work commitments prevent you from being able to respond immediately to your family's needs, Comfort Keepers can help.

Knowing that someone will be there to help and care in your absence, Comfort Keepers will provide you with the peace of mind to focus on your important interview, presentation or meeting - keeping both your family and your career on track.

About the Package

This package has been designed for busy professionals with ageing parents or a spouse at home post hospitalisation and can be tailored to suit individual needs.

Your Comfort Keeper will be

- A Problem Solver - to immediately respond to issues
- A Visitor - to provide companionship and check on well-being
- A Transport Resource - for hospital appointments, grocery items or errands
- A Reminder service - for medications and appointments
- A Housekeeper - for meal preparation and light housework
- A Feedback service - to send updates via SMS, email or phone

How it Works

Following a free in-home assessment, a personal 'Care While you Work' plan will be prepared. Your Comfort Keeper will then arrange a suitable time to commence the service. A regular feedback system and continuous improvement process will also be implemented, to support the package.

Our Interactive Care Model

Comfort Keepers adopts and encourages a model of Interactive Care, which focuses on a person's ability to perform their activities of daily living (ADL) with proactive assistance and encouragement from their caregiver, rather than total dependence and reliance for all day-to-day activities.

About Our Caregivers

Each Comfort Keeper is carefully selected, screened and trained to provide the best service possible. From extensive background checks to ongoing training, we strive to offer the very best Comfort Keeper for any specific individual or situation. Comfort Keeper caregivers are police and credit checked, insured and covered by Workers' Compensation.
